Deluge Sport-backed Hahn (Honda) goes 5-7 for 6th overall in Lites class, Ryan Morais (Yamaha) is 7th in Lites; Moto XXX's Kyle Lewis is 15th in MX class

CORONA, Calif., (July 2, 2007) – Deluge Sport Drink-backed Tommy Hahn (Honda) and Ryan Morais (Yamaha) both scored top ten AMA Lites class finishes in the hotly contested Monster Energy Kawasaki RedBud National, presented by Concept Haulers this past Sunday.

In addition, Deluge-backed Moto XXX racers Josh Summey (11th overall MX class) and Kyle Lewis (15th overall MX class) rode really well in front of the largest crowd that will gather all year for the Outdoor Nationals – nearly 30,000!

Leading the Deluge Sport Drink charge in the Lites class was Hahn. The Honda factory rider went 5-7 for 6th overall, and is currently in 8th place overall – just a handful of points out of the top six. Also making the top ten with hydration help from Deluge was Yamaha factory rider Ryan Morais. Morais came in just behind Hahn in 7th with an 8-9 two-moto finish.

Next up for the Deluge Sport Drink-backed athletes is the July 15th Monster Energy Nice N Easy Unadilla Pro Nationals at Unadilla Valley Sports Center (N.Y.).

Available in 32-ounce bottles with half the sugar of other Sports Drinks, while replenishing Electrolytes, and Amino Acids, Deluge Sport Drink is what high level athletes need to perform at their peak. Deluge Sport can be found at ampm and other Convenience Stores in the West, with more locations added every day.
